PHL Airport Welcomes Two New Food Locations

PHILADELPHIA — Philadelphia International Airport (PHL) officially welcomed Bruegger's Bagels and Smashburger with a ribbon cutting ceremony today at the eateries' location in Terminal A-West near Gate A-26.

Bruegger's Bagels offers a comprehensive menu of healthy choices for breakfast and lunch. Their menu includes natural, preservative-free bagels, premium cream cheese flavors, 25 breakfast and lunch choices less than 500 calories, hand-tossed salads and hearty soups including a daily vegetarian option.

Smashburger, a PHL favorite which also has a location in Terminal F, sells handcrafted burgers, seared and seasoned to order. Other dining options include grilled chicken sandwiches or fresh salads. Smashburger also offers a selection of signature sides, such as Smashfries tossed with rosemary, olive oil and garlic.

"We're excited to welcome Bruegger's Bagels to PHL and are delighted that Smashburger has opened a second location here," said Airport CEO Chellie Cameron. "Their vast selection of food options will surely catch the attention of PHL passengers."

Philadelphia International Airport is owned and operated by the City of Philadelphia. The Airport is a self-sustaining entity that operates without the use of local tax dollars. It is one of the largest economic engines in Pennsylvania, generating an estimated $15.4 billion in spending annually and supporting more than 96,300 full-time jobs for the 11-county Philadelphia MSA.
